School Board Links Community With Education

Representing the citizens of Fayetteville on educational and city business are the members of the Fayetteville City Schools Board of Education. Elected by citizens of Fayetteville, these eleven men and women meet on the first Monday of each month to consider such matters as the hiring of personnel and the curriculum for each of the city schools. The Board also concerns itself with financial and managerial duties. The excellent and commendable work of the Board has contributed immensely to the high standing of the Fayetteville City School System in North Carolina.

Smooth Operation of City Schools Insured by Mr. Ross

To ease his work load, Mr. Ross makes use of his dictaphone.

Mr. Ross and his secretary Mrs. Breeden refer to a Fayetteville city map on a school districting matter.

In 1951, Mr. C. Reid Ross became Superintendent of the Fayetteville City Schools. Under his leadership, the Fayetteville City School System has become one of the most highly rated and respected in the state. Mr. Ross has exhibited his superior administrative ability in executing his duties. For his outstanding work, the Board of Education chose to name the newest high school in Fayetteville in his honor.

Mr. Ross holds both a B. A. and an M. A. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Before coming to Fayetteville, Mr. Ross gained experience as a teacher and principal in the Lenoir County schools until 1951 when he assumed his present position. His work has made him highly deserving of the respect that he commands.

Anticipating his day's work, Mr. Ross pauses on the steps of the administration building.

Assistant Superintendents Carry

DR. MAYLON E. McDONALD

As Assistant Superintendent in charge of Instruction, Dr. McDonald is concerned with improving the overall instructional program of the city schools. Besides helping to select the instructional staff, he assists in the areas of vocational education and special education for the handicapped. Dr. McDonald received his master's degree from the University of North Carolina after being graduated from Wake Forest College.

DR. BERT ISHEE

Familiar to many F.T.S. students is Dr. Bert Ishee who formerly served as principal of Alexander Graham Junior High in Fayetteville. His present position is that of Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Special Education and Research. This is an important position as Fayetteville's special education program is one of the broadest in North Carolina. After undergraduate work at Mississippi College, Dr. Ishee received his master's degree from the University of North Carolina where he returned after several years to complete work on his doctoral degree.

MR. ZOLLY L. BOWDEN

Supervising the purchasing of equipment for the schools and managing the cafeteria program are involved in Mr. Bowden's job as Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Business. He also directs the program for building and maintaining school plants and grounds. Previously Mr. Bowden has served as a teacher, principal, and supervisor in other North Carolina school systems. He earned his master's degree from the University of North Carolina after being graduated from Elon College.

Out Administrative Work

MR. RAYMOND E. LUPER

Involved in Mr. Luper's job as Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Athletics and Physical Education and Pupil Placement is the coordination of the athletic programs in the city junior and senior high schools as well as in the elementary schools. His duties in pupil placement involve the assignment of pupils to the appropriate school according to local, state, and federal regulations.

MR. A. IRVING MAYNARD

Mr. Maynard holds the position of Director of Visual Aids. His work involves the film projectors and maps and other visual aids that are used in the classrooms of the city schools. Mr. Maynard is to be thanked for the helpful visual aids that are available to the city schools as he purchases them for the school system.

MR. CARROLL R. POWELL

As Director of Library Services, Mr. Powell helps to provide useful resources for the use of students through the libraries of the schools. This important responsibility has been carried out very well as is evident by visiting any of the Fayetteville City School libraries.

Secretaries and Supervisors Work

Secretaries concerned with Special Services are: Mrs. Vernon Parsons, Printing Department; Mrs. Virginia Kirby, Library Services; Mrs. Letty Whitfield, Library Services; Mrs. Doris Daum, Audio-Visual Department.

Other secretaries are: Mrs. Gertrude Anders, Title I.E.S.E.A.; Mrs. Jean Tigner, Secretary to Mr. Bowden; Mrs. Elizabeth Breeden, Secretary to Mr. Ross; Mrs. Ann G. Quick, Audio-Visual Department; Mrs. Winnie Ferris, Secretary to Mr. McDonald.

in Conjunction With Administration

Supervisors insure smooth operation in their respective departments. They include: Mr. Carroll R. Powell, Director of Library Services; Mrs. Sara Riley, Supervisor of Cafeterias; Mr. D. C. Jackson, Supervisor of Maintenance.

Bookkeepers include: Mrs. Frances Boney, Mrs. Grace McLamb, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Mrs. Nell Bullard, and Mrs. Florence Cook.

Mr. Sasser Directs School Policy

Excitement, disappointment, satisfaction, and hard work are all a part of Mr. John T. Sasser's position as principal of Terry Sanford Senior High School. Mr. Sasser has effectively executed his duties in a responsible manner and worked to make FTS a better place of learning. In his nine years at FTS, he has displayed his excellent administrative ability by establishing our school as one of the most highly respected in North Carolina.

But Mr. Sasser's work extends beyond the day-to-day routine of educational responsibilities. He is responsible for all extracurricular activities and is always willing to lend a helping hand in any student activities. In doing so, he has established a close relationship with the students. An example of this is not only his support of such activities as the Miss FTS Contest and the Senior Class Play, but his constant support of Bulldog athletic teams.

Because of his efficiency, Mr. Sasser is regarded as an outstanding educational figure. His work at FTS has proven this regard to be well-deserved.

Mr. Sasser is always willing to help students in any way possible.

Putting on his Go-Go Bulldogs hat as he leaves his office, Mr. Sasser shows his support of the Bulldogs.

Mr. Sasser rings the fire drill bell for an early morning fire drill.

Secretaries Serve As Necessary Aids

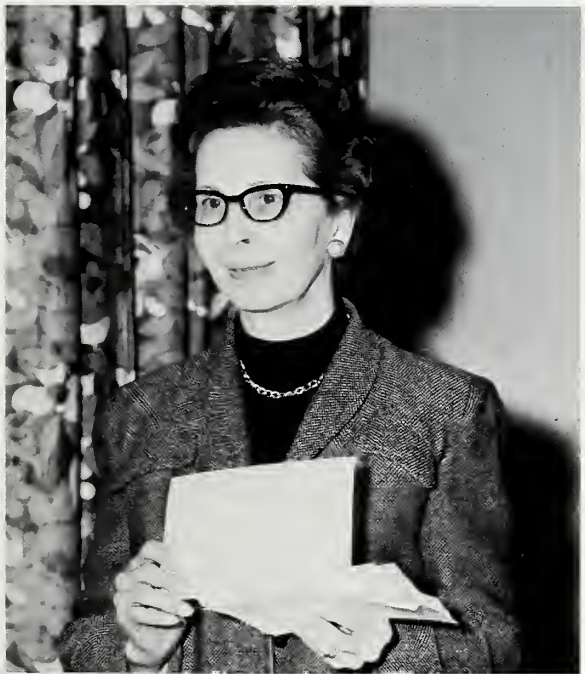

MRS. MIRIAM CARTER

Keeping the accounts for all school organizations in order and collecting student fees occupy Mrs. Carter's time in her duties as school treasurer. Mrs. Carter also has the job of attending to financial matters relating to the school itself.

MRS. ANNE WILKINS

Mrs. Wilkins, as school registrar, works with and maintains all student cumulative records. She also helps new students in adjusting to and becoming familiar with the daily routine at F.T.S.

MRS. SARA BULLARD

In her job as clinic secretary, Mrs. Bullard works with the students' calendar cards in compiling the absentee bulletin each day. She, in addition, contacts the homes of those who are absent, aids students in checking in and out of school, and helps anyone who becomes ill during the school day.

MRS. DONNA RAMA

Offering her assistance to visitors or students seeking information in the main office is Mrs. Rama. As Mr. Sasser's personal secretary, she also takes care of his dictations and correspondence, and offers a helping hand with other school activities.

Assistant Principal and Dean Settle Disciplinary Matters

Mrs. Mask pauses a moment while working on attendance reports.

To many students, the foreboding office on the left side of the hall, commonly known as Mr. Warren's Office or the Dean's office, has come to be a familiar abode where friendly but firm advice is given or appropriate penalties are assigned. Behind these doors abide Mr. Percy A. Warren, well-known Assistant Principal; and Mrs. Helen R. Mask, Dean of Students.

Mr. Warren is a familiar personage to all here at Terry Sanford High School. Whether he is directing lunch traffic, conferring with parents or students, or organizing the daily detention hall, every minute of his day is filled with activities concerning the students themselves.

Although Mr. Warren handles most of the disciplinary matters, Mrs. Mask also assists in having conferences and assigning penalties. In addition, she busies herself regularly with attendance records, excusing absences, and signing late passes.

Mr. Warren advises Steve Floyd that it's "about that time" to get another haircut.

Vagabond Players Entertain Seniors

English students here at Terry Sanford Senior High School are discovering that literature is not really so dull after all. To enrich the English program, teachers supplement lessons with interesting tapes, films, and records which pertain to the subject matter. More valuable to the student is the opportunity offered to him for self-expression and creativity.

In the sophomore English classes, for example, students not only read through Shakespeare's Julius Caesar but many stage small scale productions of their own. The same is true in the junior English program, in which Thornton Wilder's popular play Our Town may be acted out with relatively few and simple props. Seniors find stimulation in Shakespeare's richly dramatic Macbeth and test their skill at projecting themselves in the heart of a character through the great playwrights lines.

More extensive experience in self-expression is offered through another branch of the English department. This includes the Journalism classes which compile and publish a monthly school newspaper—The Bulldog. Students with special talents for writing may further develop writing skills by taking advantage of the Creative Writing and Advanced Composition courses.

Taught in conjunction with the literature are basic skills in grammar and sentence mechanics. This training proves to be invaluable in producing a polished creative piece of work.

Mrs. Wilmers, chairman of the English department, enriches her lesson plan by using this replica of the Globe Theater in conjunction with the textbook.

Calculus Introduced into Math Curriculum

From general math to Mechanical Drawing, F.T.S. presents a course of study suitable to each student's particular needs and interests in its math department. The need of math knowledge in everyday situations has prompted the math teachers to emphasize the practical aspects and uses of this subject area in its instruction. To meet the continually increasing uses of math and changing methods of instruction, the math department is fortunate to have available the best texts for this purpose. To meet the required two units of math for graduation, varied math courses are offered. General math provides an opportunity to gain a knowledge of the basics of mathematics and a good foundation in this subject. College bound students prepare themselves through courses in algebra, geometry, and the combined one year course of trigonometry and mathematical analysis. Introduced into the math department this year was calculus. This course is open to students who have completed the study of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry and mathematical analysis before their senior year and desire more advanced work in math. Mechanical drawing provides an introduction to engineering for seniors with a special interest in that area of study in math.

Advanced Biology Studies Drosophila

Activities of the science department are continually brought to the attention of the student body. Whether it be by the sophomores excited by their first dissection of a frog in biology, juniors and seniors intrigued by the analysis of an unknown in chemistry, or seniors engrossed in advanced biology by the dissection of cats, students are constantly kept up-to-date on the learning processes used in the science courses offered at F.T.S. Besides providing for a more interesting course, the laboratory work used so frequently in the science department enables the students to learn by applying and observing facts taught in the classroom. The result is a very great interest in science.

With the promising career opportunities in science, great emphasis has been placed on a good science department. Though biology is required of sophomores, there is no other required course in science. Juniors and seniors choose from advanced physical science, chemistry, physics, and advanced biology. This year, the advanced biology class supplemented its study of heredity by studying the Drosophila or fruit fly. The science department of FTS efficiently carries out its duties of giving the student a good foundation in science and stimulating the student's interest for further scientific study.

Language Lab Speeds Learning Process

Increasing world travel, diplomatic meetings between representatives of different nations, and other instances of contact between people who speak different languages has made instruction of foreign languages a major study area for high school students. Such is the case at F.T.S. Having lived their lives in times when the knowledge of foreign languages has been so important, F.T.S. students have been stimulated to choose from the four foreign languages offered to them—Spanish, French, Latin, and German.

Modern methods of foreign language instruction used by the department make this line of study more interesting and enjoyable to the student. Up-to-date textbooks are used, and a language laboratory is available that is especially useful in individual self-help. Besides drills in vocabulary and grammar, classroom study also includes skits, playlets, and the study of foreign culture and history. This provides an opportunity for the student to gain a well-rounded knowledge of the language and the areas where it is spoken.

In keeping up with new need for communication in foreign languages, students are taking advantage of the excellent foreign language program at F.T.S. They are finding that learning a new language is fun as well as informative.

Social Studies Stresses Man and His World

Information and understanding of the world affairs to which our attention is so often directed is necessary to obtain a good foundation in social studies. With this in mind, the F.T.S. social studies department strives to instill an understanding and interest of world affairs into each student in the particular social studies course he is taking. Through the presentation of the important events, problems, and milestones in the history of man, social studies students learn the principles that have guided men throughout history in making their decisions.

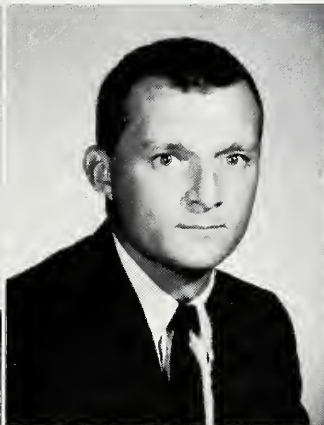

Many helpful social studies courses are offered at F.T.S. World history is open to sophomores and seniors. This course deals with man and his world from the time of his existence to the present. United States History is required of all juniors. This course is taught both by television and by regular classroom method. Television students have a half hour of television and one half hour of classroom discussion. A variety of elective courses offered by the social studies department provide an opportunity for the student to supplement his interest in this area with other subjects. These subjects are government, world geography, sociology, and economics. Contemporary history is a course which examines current world problems and history. Students wishing to take contemporary history must receive special approval before being able to register for it.

Business Department Offers Actual Work Experience

Through the specialized curriculum of the Business Department, students are given the opportunity to gain valuable experience in actual job situations. With the co-operation of Fayetteville merchants and businessmen, many students participating in the Vocational Office Training or Distributive Education program are placed in paid positions which amount to 10 hours a week working time.

Also in conjunction with the Vocational Office Training program, directed by Mrs. Dorothy Sasser, many students are employed by the Fayetteville City School System. These perform secretarial services here at our school and at various schools throughout the city. Some work directly for the Administration at the Neill A. Currie Administration Building.

Dr. Thomas H. Price, director of the Distributive Education program, instructs his students in areas such as buying and selling, advertising, and managerial duties for part of the school day. The remainder of the day is divided between academic studies and a paid job which Dr. Price assists the student in finding.

Students not interested in immediate employment may develop and practice business skills by taking advantage of such courses as Office Practice, Typing, Bookkeeping, Business Law, and Shorthand.

Home Ec Department Seeks Solutions to Family Problems

Home Economics, often thought of as a course taken only by young ladies, is expanded here at Terry Sanford High School to include male members. Through the course of Family Life Education, boys and girls discuss and work out family and personal problems together in the classroom. Housekeeping, meal planning, and actual cooking is also included.

Of course regular Home Economics courses are offered exclusively for girls on the beginning, intermediate, and advanced levels. Child development, cooking, sewing, and know-how in everyday household situations are emphasized throughout the three years. Advanced level girls participate in a Red Cross Home Nursing program. All students taking a Home Ec course are eligible for membership in the Future Homemakers of America Club.

Special Talents Developed by Fine Arts

Adding the finishing touches to a student's high school education are the subjects available in the Fine Arts Department. These courses emphasize and attempt to develop special talents. As a result, F.T.S. students are given the opportunity to take courses in fields that particularly interest them other than academic subjects and that give special attention to gifted students in these fields.

The Fine Arts Department also provides an opportunity for a student to display his talent in performances and competition. Performances by the Fine Arts Department occur at F.T.S. in assemblies by the Mixed Chorus, Senior High Singers, and the Band. Music Theory and Music Appreciation courses supplement these music courses. The Senior High Singers and art students have the chance to compete with other high school choruses and art students for their excellence in their respective talents. The activities of the Fine Arts Department contribute greatly to the school as well as to those students taking one of the courses offered by this department.

Library Expands Audio-Visual Aids

At F.T.S., the focal point for study and research on all subjects is the library. Providing over 15,000 books for student use, the library is an excellent resource for study aids from books to read for book reports to research material for term papers to records and films that can be used by the student in the library.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Surles, the head librarian, the F.T.S. library has progressed to meet the needs of the students. The library is open from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. to provide extra time for any library work a student needs to do. Helping Mrs. Surles are Mrs. Averitte and Mr. McKinnon, who both joined the library staff this year, and Mrs. Johnson. The efficiency of the library staff and their willingness to help any student locate needed materials makes the F.T.S. library a pleasant place to work.

Intramurals Highlight Physical Education

Mrs. Battaglia demonstrates how to get a proper grip on the basketball to Jolynn Edwards while the other girls watch carefully.

Besides building and maintaining personal health, physical education provides a break in the academic schedule of every sophomore and junior. Through exercises, team and individual sports, students get part of the physical exercise they need to stay healthy, strong, and physically fit. Physical education classes also study the rules of certain sports and put them to use as these sports are taken up. The better understanding of the game gained from this helps the student to become more proficient in participating in the sport.

Varsity, junior varsity, and intramural teams offer the chance for students to use the skills acquired in gym class. More skilled athletes compete on varsity and junior varsity teams against other North Carolina teams. A well-planned intramural program has been at F.T.S. so that any person may compete in athletics. Under the direction of Mr. Maness, this program has created great enthusiasm for inter-school competition in sports.

Guidance Staff Proves Indispensable

How many students leaving Terry Sanford High School could claim that they had had no contact whatsoever with the guidance department during their stay? It would be safe to say that the number would be virtually nil. In the course of a school year, all students—seniors, juniors, and even sophomores have need of the guidance department.

Behind the scene work includes schedule planning for all students. The staff also has the responsibility of administering various tests and recording the results in each student's personal file.

Of course, the primary function of the staff is assisting students in selecting the right college or vocation after graduation. The staff busy themselves on endless transcripts and recommendations. In addition, individual guidance and counseling are available to any student.

College catalogs, vocational brochures, year-books from various colleges, and scholarship bulletins line the shelves of the guidance office. Seldom is this room empty as it is open to students for browsing throughout the school day.

Mrs. Livermore pauses from work on a student's college transcript, one of her many duties as chairman of the guidance department.

At F.T.S. this year, boys dressed in blue Air Force uniforms became a common sight on Fridays. These boys were attired in this manner as a part of their taking ROTC—a new course at F.T.S. It is a three year program of Air Force Junior ROTC covering many facets of military, social, and commercial aerospace. Carrying one unit of credit each year, the class meets five days a week. The course of study includes military drill, wearing of the uniform, and preparation for ceremonies. Flag raising ceremonies occurring during the school year were performed by the ROTC.

Crackling and sparkling of the bonfire brought to life Homecoming 1968. As flames from the fire streaked the sky, the feverish pitch of cheering students filled the air.

The cavalcade highlighted the afternoon before the game. Gaily decorated cars traditionally circled the Market House. Horns and shouts echoed, proclaiming an F.T.S. victory.

At the game that night, people crowded the bleachers in time to see the initial kick. Enthusiasm mounted continuously.

During half-time, the F.T.S. Marching Band and the Scottish Dancers entertained the guests. The climax of the evening came when Miss Diane Maness, Homecoming Queen 1967, crowned the new queen, Miss Cathy Bock.

Equally exciting was the game, which ended in a victory for Fayetteville. Football players and spectators alike rejoiced at the dance sponsored by the Student Council. Music was provided by the Contemptions and Homecoming ended as enthusiastically as it began.

Excited crowds cheer our team to victory.

1968 Junior-Senior Prom Recalls "Gone"

At 7:45, the garden of this Southern Plantation was empty.

A half-hour later, guests had arrived and music filled the air.

Diligent juniors spent months creating the charming atmosphere of a Southern Plantation for the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom. Couples were astonished at the transformation of the gym which was decorated with a graceful white-columned mansion and a lovely river scene.

The night of the Prom, couples danced to soft music provided by Jay Tuberville and his orchestra. Other couples sat at candlelit tables or strolled among gardens of flowers and fountains. Sophomore waiters and waitresses, dressed in the fashion of the pre-war South, served the guests.

Later that evening, Bobby Vause announced the figure. Those chiefly responsible for the success of the Prom formed a flower, after which the King and Queen, Bobby Bell and Margaret Anderson, were crowned. Margaret and Bobby led the couples of the figure in the next dance, and everyone continued to dance until the lights dimmed and a wonderful Prom was over.

Couples enjoy the atmosphere of Southern hospitality.

Finalists Select Miss Congeniality

Miss Congeniality, Diane Warren, is congratulated by Junior Class President, Dan Mattox.

Backstage, Miss F.T.S. contestants waited. Emotions wavered between excitement and fear. The 1968 Miss F.T.S. contest was about to begin.

Sponsored by the Junior Class, the contest was a tremendous success. The Junior Class, along with Miss Cherry, worked diligently soliciting, selling tickets, and decorating the stage. By November 13, everything was ready and the preliminaries, held Wednesday and Thursday nights, began. Approximately seventy-five girls were selected by the judges to compete in the finals on Friday night.

That night, Diane Warren was chosen as Miss Congeniality. Tension mounted—who would be Miss F.T.S.? The audience waited expectantly as the runners-up were escorted on stage. At last, the first Miss F.T.S., Paula Mathews, was called and, trembling with emotion, she walked down the runway. As the magic night came to an end, the crowd enthusiastically applauded the new queen.

Sadie Hawkins Fellas

Couples catch a bite to eat at The Peddler before the annual hoedown.

Weeks before Sadie Hawkins had arrived, the gals of F.T.S. had caught themselves some fellas to escort them to the annual dance sponsored by the Scottish Dancers.

After the Dogpatch couples had eaten their share of vittles at a local restaurant, they arrived at the cafeteria spruced up with a general store, scarecrows, hay, and Marrying Sam. The Dogpatchers went wild with joy as the Ambassadors played their foot-stomping music. Later that night, a square dance was held with a mighty good fiddler on hand. Afterwards, Daisy Mae, Larry Taylor, and Li'l Abner, Nancy Smith, were announced by the Scottish Dancers.

To round the evening out, a weightlifting contest was held, and many a male displayed his he-man strength. According to the local hillbillies, it was the biggest shindig of the year.

1969 Marshals Exemplify

The High Ideal of Service

Each year the Senior Class chooses fifteen juniors as Marshals. Selected on the basis of ability, merit, and character, these juniors, identified by their blue and white ribbons, serve both the school and the Senior Class. With Mr. and Mrs. Warren as advisors, they usher at the Senior Class play, the Miss FTS Contest, and at graduation. Their services are invaluable; to be a Marshal is indeed an honor and a responsibility.

Elected into the National Honor Society, William has since been named a National Merit Finalist and a finalist for both the Morehead and Angier B. Duke scholarships. William was a Math Club member, French Club President for two years, and Key Club Lt. Governor, attending the International Key Club Convention in Montreal, Canada. William was President of the Junior Class and then President of the FTS Student Body. The Class of '68 chose him as Chief Marshal and the Class of '69 selected him, "Most Likely to Succeed." He also received the Louise Black Scholastic Award. William has spent busy summers, participating in the Boys' State and Governor's School programs. William's favorite subjects are French, English, and Physics. He will attend UNC, Davidson, or Duke in the fall.

Participating in both cross-country and track, Melvin earned a letter in the former. As a senior, he was Key Club President and attended the International Convention. For three years, he has also been a member of the Latin Club, the Varsity F Club, and the National Honor Society. As a junior, he worked on committees for the Miss FTS Contest and the Jr.-Sr. Prom, and he was a delegate to Boys' State. Because of his scholastic achievements, Melvin was chosen as a Morehead nominee. A member of the Immanuel Baptist Church, he served as Youth Fellowship President. Outside of school, Melvin enjoys sports, reading, and travel. After graduation, he hopes to study political science at either Davidson or Carolina.

Greg Johnson has gained recognition as an outstanding leader. He served as Sophomore Treasurer, Student Body Treasurer, and President Pro-tem of the Student Forum. He attended the N. C. Student Council Congress, Mars Hill Workshop, and the International Key Club Convention. Gregg served as Lt. Governor of Key Club Division IV and now spends much time traveling to other clubs to speak in his capacity as Governor of the Carolina's. Greg has also served as President of the Cumberland County Teen-Dems. The Class of '69 appropriately elected Greg "Most Outstanding Citizen." An alternate Morehead Finalist, Greg hopes to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

A Morehead Semi-finalist, Reggie Barton has devoted much time to the Student Council, serving as Junior Representative, Senior Class President, and attending the N. C. Council Congress. Reggie has served as Secretary of the Hi-Y and was chosen as a member of the National Honor Society and the Math Club. He is also the Assistant Editor of the LaFamac and has a leading role in the Senior Class Play. In recognition of his outstanding personality, Reggie was awarded the Janie Simmerman Courtesy Cup and the superlative title, "Most Courteous." Interested in politics (aspiring to become a U.S. Senator), Reggie plans to attend Davidson College.

Tribute Goes to Academic Success

During his three years at FTS, Jimmy Stanfield has shown his capabilities in numerous ways. As a National Merit Finalist and Morehead Nominee, he has proved to be an outstanding scholar. Jimmy has served as Secretary of the Key Club and as Vice-President of the Math Club. Because of his academic achievement, he was selected as "Most Intellectual" by the Senior Class. A member of the Honor Society and the track team, Jimmy also served as Student Council Historian and as President of the Hay Street Methodist Youth Fellowship. He enjoys playing the guitar and hopes to attend Davidson College and to major in Pre-Med.

David Sinodis has gained recognition as a National Merit Finalist while at FTS. He has also participated in athletics by serving as a Basketball Manager during his junior and senior years. Outside of school David enjoys playing chess and is an active member of St. John's Episcopal Church. He has served for two years as President of the Young Churchmen and as Diocesan Vice-President during the past year. A member of the Teen-Age Republicans of Cumberland, he was recently Vice-President of that group. Planning to major in Engineering, David has been accepted at North Carolina State University.

Active Scholars

During his sophomore and junior years at FTS, Dan Hicks was president of his homeroom and delegate to the Student Council Nominating Convention. Elected into the National Honor Society as a junior, he served successfully as President this year. He is also a member of the Key Club and the Fayetteville Youth Council. Dan spent a constructive summer '68, attending the Civitan Youth Conference in June and the Methodist Youth Fellowship at Wesleyan in August. Dan enjoys sailing, photography, and playing the guitar, but his academic love is architecture. He had the distinction to be chosen a National Merit Finalist. He has been accepted at North Carolina State University but awaits a decision from MIT.

Selected as a National Merit Finalist, Cyndi Mitchell has exemplified scholastic achievement and service during her three years at FTS. She has been a member of the French Club and the National Honor Society. As a junior, Cyndi won the Stedman Essay Contest. She served on the decorations committees for the Miss FHS Contest and the Jr.-Sr. Prom. Cyndi is the Features Editor of the LaFamac, Secretary of the Fayetteville Junior Garden Club, and a member of the Student World Federalists. She enjoys sailing, skiing, poetry, and traveling, having spent a summer in France living with a French family. Cyndi's preferred subjects are International Law and Philosophy. She has been accepted at Boston University but hopes to attend Radcliffe or Yale.

Receive Acclaim

Jimmy Young has demonstrated his academic and athletic ability during his three years at FTS. For two years, he has been a member of the Math Club and the National Honor Society. As a sophomore, Jimmy was elected into the Hi-Y and chosen to serve as a waiter at the Junior-Senior Prom. As a junior, he was both a Marshal and a delegate to Boys' State. Jimmy has played on the junior varsity and varsity basketball teams. He received a basketball letter and, during his senior year, was co-captain of the team. Jimmy works with the YMCA basketball clinic for small boys. He also likes swimming and is President of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Jimmy has been accepted to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Kathleen Tillery, a National Merit Finalist, has contributed much to FTS during the past three years. She was elected President of her homeroom, representing it as a member of the Student Forum. She has participated in Intramural Sports and the Miss FTS Contest. Kathleen has also been an active member of the German Club and the Distributive Education Program. A member of the A. M. E. Zion Church, she sings with the Youth Choir and serves as Secretary of the Usher Board. Preferring to major in either music or languages, Kathleen hopes to enter Carolina or Wake Forest in September.

Honors Bestowed on

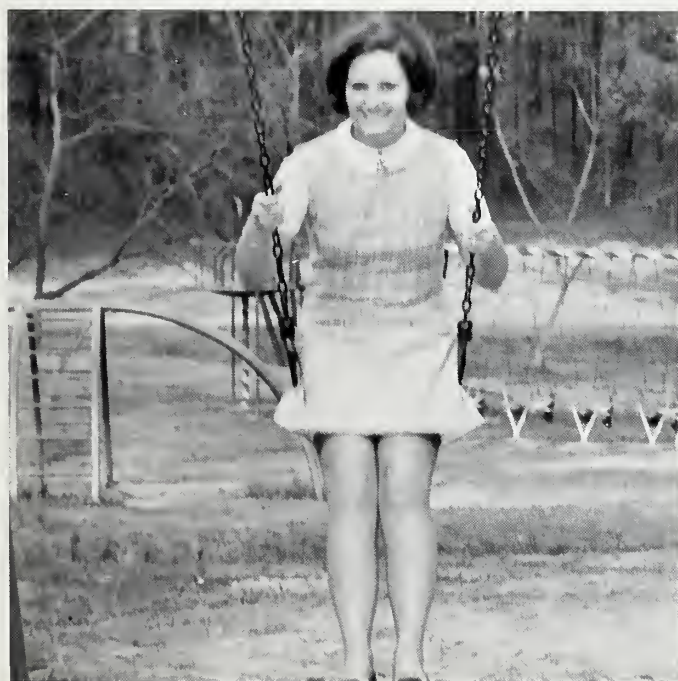

Rusty Walden's experiences in Italy, France, Germany, Spain, Mexico, Canada, and Japan have helped her to make significant contributions to our school during her two years at FTS. She has been an active member of the German Club for both years and, as a senior, served as President. Rusty worked on the Prom Program Committee and was selected as a member of the National Honor Society. Perhaps her greatest distinction came when she was named a National Merit Finalist. Rusty's favorite subject is chemistry. For pleasure, she enjoys roller skating and playing the guitar. Her plans for the future hopefully include attending MIT.

Mike Landon has enjoyed the privilege of traveling in various places, including Germany. As a senior, after three years at FTS, Mike was recognized for his academic ability when he was chosen as a National Merit Finalist. Outside of school, Mike's favorite things are music, poetry, and thinking. In school, his preferred subjects are English and drama. His writing talent is illustrated by his many contributions to the Bulldog, and his part in the Senior Class Play will give him the chance to pursue his interest in the dramatic arts. Mike plans to attend East Carolina University and major in psychology.

the Socially Concerned

Katherine Smith Reynolds Scholarship Finalist, Bette York has spent three active years at FTS. She accompanied the Senior High Singers, was a member of the French and Math clubs, and a National Honor Society delegate to the state convention. Bette worked on the program committees of both the Miss FTS contest and the Jr.-Sr. Prom. As a senior, Bette was selected as "Most Intellectual" by the Class of '69. She has attended the North Carolina Science Symposium at Duke University and the Laser School at North Carolina State University. She will attend U.N.C.-G. in September and plans to major in history.

Winnie McBryde's leadership and achievements have been outstanding during her three years at FTS. She served as Sophomore Class Secretary in the Student Council, then as Student Body Secretary and Student Body Vice-President. Her work on the 1967 Miss FHS Contest, the 1968 Jr.-Sr. Prom, and the Tri-Hi-Y are examples of Winnie's service to FTS. The students have honored Winnie by electing her as Assistant Chief Marshal, "Best All Around," and "Most Outstanding Citizen." The DAR presented her with the Good Citizenship Award, and the Fayetteville Youth Council named her "Youth of the Month." Planning to major in English or Elementary Education, Winnie will enter Methodist College in the fall.

During his three years at FTS, Sammy Parker has distinguished himself through service and achievement. He was Hi-Y Treasurer, District President, and, then, State Hi-Y President. Sammy served as homeroom president for two years and was chosen to be a Marshal. He worked on the Miss FTS contest and was a member of the Jr.-Sr. Steering Committee. Sammy's interests outside of school include working with the YMCA and teaching small children in various sports. Sammy is Treasurer of the Fayetteville Youth Council and served as Vice-President during his junior year, when he also served as President of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Sammy will attend UNC at Chapel Hill and would like to major in psychology.

Winnie McBryde was a member of the House of Representatives and Mary Erwin King was a Senator at 1968 Tarheel Girls' State. The program at UNC-G attempted to familiarize the 300 girls participating with their state government. The woman's role in government and education was discussed and the week in Greensboro proved to be interesting and informative.

Advanced art students and those who experiment and develop new or unusual techniques enter the Scholastic Art Competition. This year, John Page and Ed Tomoloni were recognized for their entries. John was awarded a Certificate of Merit, and Ed, a Gold Key for his work in graphics. As a gold key winner, Ed will enter the national competition in New York City.

William Fadul, Melvin Westmoreland, Raymond Luper, Reggie Barton, Jeff Nease, and Jimmy Young were selected as FTS representatives to 1968 Tarheel Boy's State at Wake Forest University. By setting up and acting out actual situations, the boys learned about the operation of a state government. Cities and counties were designated. Participants ran for mayors, county commissioners, and for governor. The boys returned after a week of intense participation, having gained new insight into the organization and procedures of a democratic government.

Creative Spirit Earns Reward

Judy Jonas, a recognized scholar, has earned worthy honors in the field of science. She attended the Duke Science Symposium in March, 1968 and the Science Mathematics Program sponsored by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Through her scholarly excellence, Judy has served her school in many ways. She has been a member of the National Honor Society, the Math Club, and the Tri-Hi-Y, acting as Secretary-Treasurer of the Math Club and as Recording Secretary of the Tri-Hi-Y. With a proposed major in either Chemistry or Psychology, Judy has been accepted on early decision at Carolina.

Joe Grebner has been distinguished throughout the Fayetteville area, as well as at FTS, for his contributions and leadership. A member of the Key Club, the Student Council and the Football team, Joe was elected as a FTS Youth Council representative and was then elected as District Director, a job involving fourteen counties. Joe was also one of the four delegates from North Carolina sent to the Kentucky Youth Conference. Presently serving as President, Joe is also an active member of the Cumberland County Teen-Dems and holds the position of District Chairman. After graduation, Joe hopes to attend Carolina.

Each year juniors and seniors are selected on the basis of their artistic or academic talents to attend the Governor's School of North Carolina. A seven week program of summer study is held at Salem College in Winston-Salem. Four hundred students participate and each is given the opportunity to concentrate and become more proficient in his special field. Jimmy Stanfield and Mike Murphy represented FTS at Salem. Both were selected because of abilities in the field of natural science.

Council and Forum Lead

Joe Grebner addresses the President at a regular Wednesday meeting of the Student Council.

Acting on tradition as well as working with new ideas, the Student Council provided the necessary leadership for student activities during the '68-'69 school year. With the Student Forum acting as the means of communication, the Council worked to establish a better student government as well as encouraging student participation in school affairs.

Throughout the year Council President William Fadul encouraged discussion of new ideas and projects. Besides introducing a new method of project committee reporting, the council initiated a Spirit Week during January honoring our basketball and wrestling teams, and encouraging the enthusiastic spirit for which our school is known.

The Council began its work during the summer, and had handbooks ready for distribution on the first day of school. Sophomore elections were held, and the Council was soon at full strength. Buzz Books were processed and the school store was opened for business.

Plans for homecoming festivities began immediately. The Forum took charge of flowers and the Council was divided into committees for planning the cavalcade, halftime ceremonies, and the victory dance. Hard work resulted in a wonderfully successful homecoming.

The Student Council Barbecue was held in December but plans began early in November. Again working through the Forum, the Council encouraged the student body to the sale of over 2000 tickets.

The Student Council Talent Show, brightened February. Then began the contest for the election of next year's school and class leaders. The swearing-in of officers climaxed the event.

Through its efforts towards the improvement of student government, the Student Council guided FTS through one of its most prosperous years.

Honor Society Inducts 34 Members

Dan Hicks addresses the assembly at induction ceremonies.

Candles flickered, students watched silently as the opening ceremonies of the National Honor Society's annual fall inductions began. Soft whispers of surprise, joy, and dejection were murmured as the list of new inductees was read. For the new members it was a joyous day, a day of honor. The dejected students turned their hopes toward spring inductions.

Although these inductions are a major event of the honor society, there are also other projects. Cakewalks are held annually to raise money for the honor society scholarship. The members also sponsor a car in the homecoming cavalcade and attend monthly meetings where they hear interesting guest speakers. Competing in a national scholastic examination has become an annual event for the club members.

Academic scholarship is not the only reason for selection in this club. The student must also display qualities of leadership, citizenship, and service. He must have an average of at least 92 in his studies to be considered for induction. Because of these high qualifications for membership, the student is honored to be inducted into the National Honor Society.

Shows Participation

All students in their second year of French maintaining a "C" average and showing much interest are eligible to join the French II Club. The objectives of the club are to promote the knowledge and interest in the French language, people, and customs.

The programs of the monthly meetings are planned by the officers with the assistance of Miss Stanback, the advisor. Various guest speakers are invited to attend the meetings and share their experiences with the members. Also the club gives skits for the French IV and V Club in which participation is encouraged.

In addition to creating a greater interest in French, learning by way of enjoyment is one of the outstanding characteristics of the French II Club.

Refreshments at the powder puff game, interesting speakers, a French dinner, and visiting clubs are all part of the French III, IV, V club. Members must be enrolled in the third, fourth, or fifth level of French to be eligible.

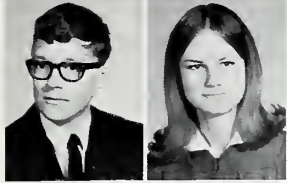

The purpose of this club is to stimulate interest in the French language and culture. To obtain this goal, interesting speakers and programs are provided. Such topics as the symbols of French kings are discussed by guest speakers.

One of the highlights of this year was the Christmas program. The French club from Seventy-First high school presented a Christmas play. Plans are being made to present a play to Seventy-First. Other projects include manning the refreshment stand for the Tri-Hi-Y's powder puff game.

Dinner at Pedro's

Spanish atmosphere, hospitality, and food were enjoyed by the members of the Spanish club at their annual dinner at Pedro's. During this dinner, the members of the club became further acquainted with the life and customs of the Spanish people.

On the second Tuesday in each month, the Spanish Club holds its regular meetings. During this time, guest speakers and other activities such as films and Spanish games entertain the members.

Dues are collected to help sponsor two girls in the annual Miss F.T.S. pageant and to finance the club's picnic held in the spring.

With the advice and help of Mr. Carr, advisor, the Spanish club helps to promote an atmosphere of Spanish living.

the Blood off my Toga"

Rome's splendor and glory are recaptured by the Latin Club as they examine the beauty of Roman architecture, the dignity of the Latin language, and the royalty of Roman customs. Participation in the Latin Club is open to all students who take Latin and express an interest in learning more about the language.

The highlight and main money-making project of the year is the annual slave sale in the spring. With the crack of imaginary whips, the throng of Latin Club members are auctioned off to the highest bidder. Feverish bidding breaks out among the spectators as the slaves appear before the audience. After the last slave is sold, the proud masters drag their humble slaves from the slave market. Throughout the day, resigned slaves follow the commands of their owners.

The many activities of the Latin Club have instilled in every member a greater knowledge of the culture and high ideals found in the language of scholars.

German Club Aids Handicapped

Discussing the Christmas party are German Club officers, Sylvia McKenzie, Secretary; Diane Parks, Treasurer; Rusty Walden, Vice President; Rhonda Calloway, President; and Advisor Mrs. Smith.

Besides the interest created through the learning of a language, German Club members have many ties that bind them into a more closely knit club. Many of the members, including the advisor, Mrs. Smith, are of German descent. Others have visited or lived in the country and are personally acquainted with its people and customs. Programs presented by these members as well as discussions led by these guest speakers make the meetings interesting as well as informative.

This year, as a Christmas project, the German Club used part of the money from their treasury to purchase supplies for the children at the Day Care Center. They also enjoyed a Christmas party filled with the merriment of the true German spirit.

Scottish Dancers Revive Tradition

SCOTTISH DANCER OFFICERS: President, Suzanne Ishee; Vice President, Beth Morrison; Secretary, Georgianna Baucom and Treasurer, Lucy Safran.

One word that can be used to describe a vivacious group of girls who spend many hours of hard work and practice is enthusiasm. The Scottish Dancers are certainly enthusiastic about the work of the club and the effort which they put out certainly proves this statement.

Among the performances given annually by the group are: the assembly for the student body, the competition with other folk groups at the State Fair (which was a First Place for the Dancers for the past two years), the dance during half-time activities at the homecoming game honoring the new queen, and Grandfather Mountain Highland Games held in the summer when they compete for medals. In addition to this, the club is asked to give programs for various organizations and to perform during Fourth of July celebrations.

Not only do the girls show enthusiasm and provide entertainment for their audiences, they also carry out the history and tradition of our section of North Carolina. Fayetteville was settled by the early Scots. These dances which the Scots brought over were done for recreation, thus the Scottish Dancers serve in the preservation of the history of our area.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Wilma Godwin, the advisor, the club has had an outstanding year. It is a highly recognized organization in which unity is one of its greatest attributes.

ADVISOR AND MASCOT: Mrs. Godwin and Anne Byrd Morrison.

Against the setting sun, the silhouettes of these two Scottish Dancers recall the heritage of the Scots.

Mr. Arnold Poe accentuates the assembly with the playing of the bagpipes.

Service with a smile could be a motto of D.E. Club members. These students are permitted to leave school early to go to work in a public business. They receive training in various jobs which will help them after graduation.

Linda Francis, Reporter; Jane Cheney, Treasurer; Cindy Wilkins, Historian; Kathy Jo Atkinson, Degrees Recorder; Barbara McAlpine, Chaplain; Mary Virginia Farrier, Secretary; Janet Mendelsohn, President; and Kathy Drake, Vice-President discuss programs for the year.

"Toward New Horizons," the club motto, expresses the attitude of the girls in the Future Homemakers of America. The FHA seeks to fulfill this motto through informative programs and interesting projects.

Their projects are numerous. Each year the FHA hold a Christmas Tea for the school faculty and the Mother-Daughter banquet in the spring. To finance these projects, the club sells cook books compiled by the Home Economics teachers and holds a candy sale during which FHA members eagerly sell chocolate candy bars.

Many interesting programs were planned for their monthly meetings. Mrs. Schur, a cosmetic specialist from the Capitol, demonstrated the correct use of make-up. Many informal panel discussions were held on controversial issues of today.

Advisors, Mrs. Cleo Warren and Miss Jane Burton, prepare the girls for the future by teaching them through experience the fundamentals of good home-making.

F.T.A. Inspires

THE OFFICERS OF THE F.T.A. are: Patty Tallerday, treasurer; Sharon Baker, vice president; Beth Martin, secretary; David Freeman, parliamentarian; and Janice LePors, historian.

Teaching the importance of patience, understanding, and love in the teaching profession is the aim of the programs presented at the monthly meetings of the Future Teachers of America. The programs also instruct the members in various teaching methods. Among the participants in these programs are teachers in various types to teaching jobs, such as elementary, junior high and special education.

The two main money-making projects of the Future Teachers of America are the annual stationery sale and the Teacher Talent Show which is presented in the spring. The proceeds from these two endeavors are used to buy favors to put in the teachers boxes each month and to finance a scholarship awarded to a deserving senior in the spring.

Health Careers Club Visits

The officers of the Health Careers Club discuss hospital visiting procedures with a candy striper. They are: Sue New, Treasurer; Phyllis Bullard, President; Malinda Bain, Vice President. Beverly Berry, Secretary, is not pictured.

Gains in membership and influence have been made by the Health Careers Club in their second year under a new name. The club, which began as the Future Nurses Club in 1954, has broadened its scope to include students who have an interest in any medical profession.

Regular monthly meetings are held the second Tuesday in each month. Resource speakers, including doctors, dentists, physical therapists, X-ray technicians, and other representatives in specialized occupations, discuss the various medical professions and help to create an interest in them. The club also sees informative films on medical related vocations.

Two regular projects on the club calendar are an annual trip to the hospital and a bake sale. The profits from the bake sale are used to help finance the scholarship given by the club at the school's regular Awards Day Program in the spring.

Through its activities the Health Careers Club acquaints students with the demanding but rewarding hospital and health related professions.

Senior High Singers Present

The Sextet: Dottie Rawley, Elizabeth Gambil, Beverly Berry, Beth Ray, Louine Clegg, and Pat Coalson perform beautifully during the annual Christmas program.

Tension disappears and worries fade as the student body avidly listens to each splendid performance of the Senior High Singers and the Girl's Chorus. Their school concerts are held each Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring. In addition, they often perform for civic groups, contests, and luncheons.

Much demanding work is done by the choir before each performance. With the added assistance of student directors and accompanists, Mr. Ray, the director, finds his work very enjoyable and rewarding.

Becoming a regular feature, the sextet, chosen by the senior members of the group, blends harmony into their arrangements. Their work is done strictly out of school.

The Senior High Singers and the Girl's Chorus contribute much to the enrichment of life at TSHS.

and Effort to FTS

Having a wide variety of activities, the FTS Band is a year-round organization. Practices are held in the summer before the beginning of school in order to be prepared for the opening day and football pep rallies. A Thanksgiving and Christmas assembly are presented for the Student Body honoring these special occasions and preparing students for the upcoming holidays. Throughout the basketball season, the band adds zest to all the home games thus promoting more spirit within the Student Body. Also our school is well-represented at Band Day, an annual event held at the University of North Carolina along with various parades of the area.

During the school year several awards are presented to outstanding band students who have proven their abilities in the field of music. The 1968 Awards were as follows:

Service Medal, Bob McMahan
 Senior Leadership Medal,
 Brent Hodges
 Senior Service Medal,
 Jimmy Tyndale
 National Arion Foundation Medal,
 Susan Pell
 Band Parents' Scholarship,
 Mary Bryant

Hard work, time, and effort are among the many qualities that go into making of a good band and the band of FTS certainly has the reputation of which we can be proud.

Varsity "F" Club

Instilling enthusiasm, the Varsity "F" Club encourages high ideals of sportsmanship in F.T.S. athletes. Boys are eligible for membership after having earned a letter in one of the eight varsity sports. These sports include football, basketball, baseball, golf, wrestling, tennis, cross country, and track.

Varsity "F" Club members demonstrated their spirit this year by selling booster buttons. They also enthusiastically sold F.T.S. sweaters and blue nylon jackets to the student body. Each home basketball game found the athletes busily selling refreshments. Members distribute basketball schedules as well as ushering the reserved section at football games. By purchasing a letter jacket for every letterman, the Varsity "F" Club exhibits its pride in the boys who exemplify its ideals.

Each Varsity "F" member has enthusiastically supported his school by participating in one or more varsity sports. Our boys in the "big blue" deserve our highest regard.

Do you like to take part in athletic games? If you are a girl and do like sports, the opportunity to become active in these interests is offered by the GAA. The goal of the Girl's Athletic Association is to provide for girls the opportunity to take part in athletics. This is achieved through monthly meetings at which the girls compete in such games as speedball, volleyball, basketball, bowling, and golf.

However, the club has interests other than athletics. Every year the girls visit the Confederate Women's Home at Christmas time. They sing Christmas carols and give out refreshments to the ladies. The GAA also sponsors an annual bowling clinic.

Key Club Represents High Ideals

Mr. Gatlin, the advisor, discusses Career Day activities.

"We Build" is certainly the appropriate motto for the Key Club. This exclusive boys' club contributes much to society through its carefully planned curriculum.

The first Key Club was organized in May, 1925 in Sacramento, California. The Key Club at Terry Sanford which is sponsored by the Fayetteville Kiwanis Club was chartered in 1951 and was the 1001st Key Club in America.

The Key Club has taken on as this year's Single Service, the "Big Buddy Program." From Fayetteville, twelve underprivileged families were contacted and the sons of these families were taken to ball games, movies, and church. Also included in the Single Service is the sponsoring of a nearby playground.

This year the Key Club has several members recognized throughout the state: Greg Johnson, Governor of the Carolinas; William Fadul, Lt. Governor of the Fourth District; Jimmy Stanfield, winner of the Impromptu Essay Contest; and Wade Fowler, nominee for District Secretary.

The F.T.S. Key Club has won the Achievement Report nine of the last ten years. This is, literally, the award given to the most outstanding club in the Carolinas' Districts. The Single Service Award was given them four times and in 1968, for the third year, won both of these awards, which no other club has ever done.

Hi-Y Conducts Bicycle

High standards set by the Hi-Y have assured enduring respect for this outstanding organization. Sponsored by the YMCA and operating through the high school, the Hi-Y is a service club that stimulates the growth of Christian character throughout the home, school, and community. Emphasizing scholarship, clean living, clean speech, and clean sportsmanship, the Hi-Y molds the young man into a capable adult.

A major portion of the Hi-Y's program is school connected. While many students were still enjoying the summer months, the Hi-Y members were busily engaged in distributing books to teachers in preparation for the opening of the 1968-1969 term. The Hi-Y donates I.D. cards to students for admission to certain school functions. Club members acted as guides at the Back-to-School PTA and directed traffic during the Miss FTS Contest. The club sells decals and holds the annual Hi-Y-Faculty basketball game to raise funds. Many other projects are financed through the Capitol's fashion show, sponsored in conjunction with the Tri-Hi-Y. The annual Hi-Y spring semi-formal dance is held in March. This year the Hi-Y hosted a meeting for students in local high schools interested in establishing a Hi-Y of their own.

However, the projects are not limited to the school. Members demonstrate their interest in social welfare by distributing United Fund posters, assisting with the Heart Fund drive, adopting a needy family at Thanksgiving, and giving a Christmas party for needy children. As a special project, the Hi-Y conducted a bicycle derby for local youngsters.

The Hi-Y seeks to mold the responsible characters of boys as they emerge into men.

Ricky Daniel assists a confused parent in finding the correct class at the Back-to-School PTA.

The year's officers of the Hi-Y—Calvin Riddle, Treasurer; Eddie Davis, Parliamentarian; Dana Kelly, President; Andy Burch, Chaplain; Buster Killam, Vice-President; and Reggie Barton, Secretary—prove to be very capable in guiding the club in its many activities.

Christian Fellowship

Smiling Tri-Hi-Y officers include Scotty Hood, Chaplain; Judy Jonas, Recording Secretary; Sandy Ambrose, Corresponding Secretary; Nancy Riggs, President; Kitty Hubbard, Sgt.-at-arms; Dottie Rankin, Vice President; Patty Mann, Historian; and Louise Hale, Treasurer.

Encouraging participation in school and community activities, the Tri-Hi-Y promotes Christian fellowship. Through their service to the school and community as well as through many informative programs, Tri-Hi-Y girls seek to obtain a better understanding of themselves and the world around them.

The club collaborates with the Hi-Y each summer in planning the Capitol's fall fashion show. As the school months begin and progress, new members are inducted and initiated, and the year's projects are planned.

Tri-Hi-Y members continued to support their "adopted" orphan in Ceylon this year through monthly checks as well as continuous thought and correspondence. Thanksgiving and Christmas found the girls busily collecting food and clothes for a needy family. The annual powder puff football game was played in December, with the seniors ousting the inexperienced juniors. Members decorated the YMCA at Christmas, and participated in a special worship service and caroling session with the Hi-Y. The Tri-Hi-Y donated $75 to the World Service Fund and presented a scholarship to a college-bound senior at the spring awards assembly.

Have you ever wondered where people get the little red books about MacBeth that seem to have all the answers? These books along with many others are sold in the library as the main fund-raising activity of the Library Club. This is a popular and useful project for students who take advantage of it. In addition, the Library Club operates a lending service, which is very useful when a school supply is needed in a hurry. These are loaned for a limited time.

Every member of the Library Club spends one class period each school day as an assistant to the school librarians. They receive useful experience shelving books, cataloguing volumes, and supervising the lending of books.

The Library Club meets the first Wednesday of each month. Sponsored by the two school librarians, Mrs. Surles and Mrs. Averitte, the club engages in many activities. These included presenting a Christmas gift to the maid who cleans the library, serving a cake in honor of the club members who have birthdays that month, and attending the Southeastern District meeting of Library Clubs at Cerro Gordo, N. C. in November and the state meeting at Durham in April.

Members of the Library Club prepare to attend the District Convention.

Art Club Enters State Competition

Mrs. Noye, the advisor, responds to the question of an interested student.

School beautification is one of the main concerns of the Art Club. One's eye is always caught by the outstanding displays in the front lobby bulletin boards. In addition to this, the teachers' lunch room is always kept attractively decorated.

This year the club sponsored the selling of the new book covers which they designed and also participated in the Fine Arts Festival.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Noyes, the Art Club continues to stimulate a cultural approach to art and produce the future Renoirs of our generation.

Bulldog Staff Visits

Who is the next Phantom victim? Could it be me? This question enters the students' minds as they eagerly read the newest edition of THE BULLDOG. Published by the Journalism II class under the able supervision of Mrs. Hill, THE BULLDOG is TSH's monthly newspaper.

The purpose of the journal is to report the activities that have occurred at TSH and to provide the readers with some entertainment. This entertainment is attained through poetry, short stories, and such articles as the "Phantom" and "Around the Dog House." The BULLDOG staff is able to supply the literature through the works submitted by the Journalism I class.

A big annual event for the staffers is the field trip to The Fayetteville Observer. Both Journalism classes are given a tour of the plant and are given an opportunity to view the journalism world from within.

Math Club Strives Toward Math Exams

If you average 30 m.p.h. going from New York to Chicago, how fast must you travel on the return trip to have an average of 90 m.p.h. for the entire trip? The answer is not 90. Through such problems as this the twenty-five members of the math club strive to prepare themselves for the National Math Exam. Another goal of the club is to encourage these students to further their studies in math related fields. These club members, under the supervision of Mr. Cashwell, are among the top ten-percent of the math students at F.T.S.

1969 Lafamac Staff Splashes Ahead

Lafamac Staff Records

Planning layouts for the various clubs at FTS is the main order of business for the Organizations' Staff, Dee Wright, Joyce White, Betsy Monroe, RoseMary Laramée, editor, and Lancy Shackelford.

Senior Class Staff, Nancy Riggs, editor, Anita Davis, Trish Kelleher, Scotty Hood, and Sue Reed check over their final copies to make sure that they are free of errors.

Susan Buchanan and Diane Warren of the Sophomore Section go through the tedious task of stamping and alphabetizing names.

Mrs. Mask, sponsor; Reggie Barton, assistant editor; and Penny Makris, editor, carefully check over the final copy before sending it to the publisher.

First Year of FTS

Untold worries, frantic moments, distraught staff members, and a common goal — all went into the making of the 1969 LaFamac.

From May until February, during sixth period and for hours after school, the staff works diligently planning layouts, taking pictures, writing copy to fit the line, and thinking of original headlines. Everything seems normal until the DEADLINE date rapidly sneaks up from nowhere. From this time on members frantically work in crowded room 14 in a rush against time to meet the deadline. The advice of the sponsor, Mrs. Mask, and the leadership of the editor, Penny Makris, largely determine the LaFamac's success in portraying a year at FTS.

Tension is relieved as the final deadline is met. Through the staff's endless effort they have produced a lasting remembrance of the 1968-69 school year.

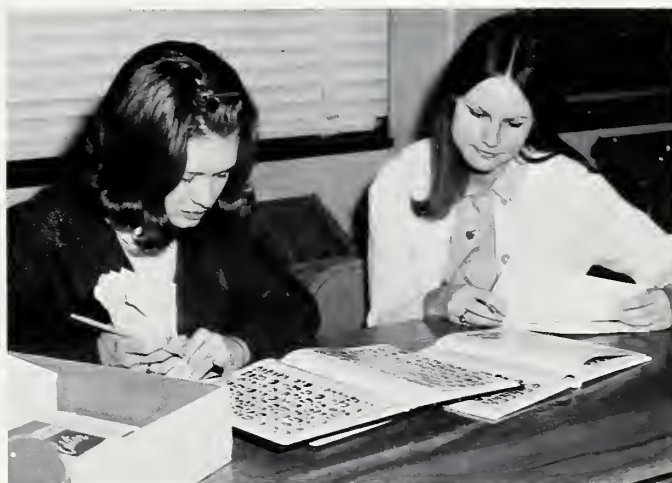

The Business Staff, Raymond Luper, editor, Kathy Vincoli, and Jerry Stewart are busily engaged in financial affairs.

Features Staff, Mary Erwin King, Cindi Mitchell, editor, and Lisa Marshall discuss plans for the Homecoming layout.

Sports Section, Bill Walters, Cathy Bock, editor, and Kathy Moss are engaged in a typical argument over which pictures to use.

The Junior Section, Janice LePors and Beth Martin look through several yearbooks for ideas for their pages.

Before the first note of the National Anthem echoed through the stadium, every seat had been filled to view Fayetteville's most exciting game in years. An enthusiastic crowd of almost 10,000 turned out for the first game of the season which pitted the Bulldogs against cross-town rival E. E. Smith Golden Bulls.

The 1968 Terry Sanford High Bulldogs, coached by Gerald Moody, Mackie Hall and Wayne Byrd, had pre-season high hopes of a possible state champion-hip.

Seventeen lettermen returned and the prospects looked bright. Injuries, the threat of any good team, hit the Bulldogs hard, and plagued many key players for the rest of the season.

Though the team had a record of 6 wins and 4 losses, the season proved to be a disappointment for many Bulldog fans as the team lost 3 of those 4 losses by a total of 6 points.

Bulldog coaches, Mackie Hall, Gerald Moody, and Wayne Byrd, give instructions to quarterback, Frank Townsend.

Chuck Hickey's despair typifies a disappointing 1968 season.

Bulldogs Dump Smith in Season Opener

Lance Kittleson, Sanford high kicking specialist, was a key factor in many games.

The Terry Sanford Bulldogs kicked off their 1968 season in high style with a convincing 29-0 victory over E. E. Smith. The game was the first between the two cross town teams and surely started a long lasting rivalry.

The Sanford High Bulldogs turned the enthusiastic game into a rout. The defense stopped the highly touted Smith offense, which scored 66 points against New Bern in their season opener, allowing them only 101 total yards gained. The Bulldog's offense, led by Kenny Garrett and Randy Thompson, was the punch that finally knocked out the surprised Golden Bulls. The total yardage gained was over 300 yards.

The sellout crowd of over 10,000 was preparing for a defensive struggle before Kenny Garrett raced off-tackle 34 yards for the Bulldogs' initial touchdown. Minutes later Garrett took an Andy Burch pass and picked his way through the Smith secondary for a 54 yard touchdown.

After the intermission Randy Thompson took over, highlighting two long touchdown drives with touchdowns. The game had many other heroes as the whole team gave a glistening performance.

Kenny Garrett kicks off the '68 season with the first touchdown.

Bulldogs Succumb to Wilson

A Wilson halfback is stopped from behind by Bulldog linebacker Ricky Jenkins.

Wilson's defending 4-A Champions turned back the Bulldogs by a score of 14 to 0. Early in the second stanza, Bulldog speedster Ken Garrett was sidelined after reinjuring an ankle injured in the opener with Smith.

As the Bulldog air strategy became weak, an interception swiftly resulted in a Cyclone TD.

A total of six interceptions killed off any chances the Sanford squad might have had in staging a comeback. In virtually every stage of the action the Cyclones outdid the Bulldogs as they reeled off 17 first downs to the locals 11 and netted 247 total offensive yards to Sanford's 215.

From the Wilson game until the end of the season the Bulldogs were plagued by a loss of personnel. For one reason or another four Bulldog starters saw little or no action in the remaining games.

Quarterback Andy Burch awaits the referee's decision.

Bulldogs Stop Greensboro Page 7-0

Andy Burch falls on the pigskin as he recovers a Bulldog fumble.

Sophomore Chip Bishop gaining 49 yards led the Bulldogs to a much needed victory over non-conference foe Greensboro Page by a score of 7-0.

With less than a minute to go in the third quarter, quarterback Andy Birch connected with Chip Bishop to score against a tough Greensboro defense. The extra point was made by Kittelson who had earlier missed a 38 yard field goal attempt.

The Bulldogs had five scoring opportunities thwarted as defense dominated the game. Defensive standouts Ronnie Almanderez, George Williams, Phil Platania, and Billy Seacrist held the Greensboro Pirates to an embarrassing minus 4 yards rushing.

Rallying in the closing minutes, Jacksonville knocked off the Sanford Bulldogs in an Eastern 4-A conference game.

Jacksonville Squeaks by FTS 21-20

The Bulldogs scored in the first quarter on a two yard plunge by Randy Thompson. The Cardinals were paced by a speedster who ran through the Sanford defense for a 43 yard touchdown.

Sanford bounced back with a 77 yard drive led by Townsend, Davis and Buie. The touchdown put the Bulldogs out in front by a score of 20-7 with six minutes to play. The Cardinals, however, came back with two touchdowns in the closing minutes to snatch victory from the Bulldogs by a mere point.

In the final minute of play, Sanford saw its last opportunity for victory die on an unsuccessful fourth down gamble. Holding the ball for the closing seconds, the Cardinals ran out the clock and claimed the 21-20 victory.

Coach Byrd discusses Bulldog strategy with a defensive player.

Bulldogs Bomb Broughton 29-6

Eddie Davis leads the action upfield while gaining yardage for the Bulldogs.

Sophomore quarterback Frank Townsend, along with a fired-up Sanford defensive unit—Almendarez, Johnston, and Johnston—completely vented their frustrations on the Caps before a large homecoming crowd.

The Bulldogs so completely dominated the game that the Caps managed to run only 23 offensive plays from scrimmage. In the second period, Roy Batton and Eddie Davis scored to make the halftime margin 16-6.

Zollie Williams intercepted 3 Broughton passes and recovered a fumbled, which keyed the Bulldog's first trip to glory. A total of 4 fumbles were recovered by the Bulldogs.

The 3rd period was scoreless, but in the final period Townsend hit Sheryl Buie for another Bulldog score. Only 7 minutes later, the two hooked up again for a final touchdown.

Batton gained 59 yards while fullback Randy Thompson also picked up 59 yards. Buie hauled in 4 passes for 69 yards, Lance Kittleson kicked all 3 extra points for the Bulldogs.

Sanford outrushed the Caps by 211 yards to 20, and the losers were held to a minus 17 yards rushing in the second stanza.

A mighty last effort by Sheryl Buie results in one of two Buie TD's in the final period.

Bulldogs Break Blackbird Line

Halfback Kenny Garrett is stopped cold by a tough Blackbird defense.

The Terry Sanford Bulldogs, playing at Rocky Mount, had to come from behind to edge out a stubborn Rocky Mount team 7-6.

Both teams played a good defensive game with the deciding point coming from kicking specialist, Lance Kittleson. The lone Fayetteville score was set up by a partially blocked punt by Paul Johnston. Randy Thompson got the scoring honor, plunging over from the four yard line.

The Bulldog defense rose to the occasion in pro-style in the waning moments of the game, stopping a Rocky Mount drive at the 16. Chuck Hickey stopped the play by blocking the Blackbirds' field goal attempt.

Durham Edges Past FTS 14-13

Plagued by rain and two fumble runbacks by the Durhamites, the Sanford Bulldogs suffered a heartbreaking 14-13 loss, thus ending Fayetteville's hopes for the conference title.

The first Bulldog score came in the second period with Ricky Jenkins running 45 yards for the touchdown. The second TD came after Chip Bishop ran 70 yards to the Durham 1 yard line where Andy Burch sneaked over to score. The failure of the conversion attempt proved to be the margin of defeat.

Entering the fourth quarter the Bulldogs led 13 to 6, but Durham recovered a fumble and raced 49 yards to paydirt. The successful conversion gave Durham the one point needed for final victory.

The Bulldogs rejoice as a touchdown is declared by the referee.

Goldsboro Pins Bulldogs 10-6

Ricky Jenkins tackles a Goldsboro Quake and captures a fumble.

Although statistically inferior, an opportunistic Goldsboro eleven pulled out a 10-6 victory over the Fayetteville squad.

The Bulldogs squandered many excellent scoring chances while the Goldsboro Quakes cashed in on two of their early attempts. An early Bulldog drive to the Quakes' 16 yard line was to no avail. The Quakes returned the 4th down punt for good yardage, which sparked a march of 84 yards in 10 plays for their initial score. Later on, a field goal put a Bulldog victory out of reach.

The lone Fayetteville points came as a result of a blocked punt, credited to Chuck Hickey and Albert Bryant, that put the ball on the Quakes' 25 yard line. Ricky Jenkins took a hand-off from the 1 and plunged over the goal line. The conversion was unsuccessful.

Chip Bishop gains extra yardage, but is quickly cut down by the Goldsboro defense.

FTS Rallies Over Wilmington 28-14

After two previous upsetting defeats, the Bulldogs regained their poise and rolled over the Wilmington Wildcats in a convincing fashion.

Quarterback Frank Townsend ran for two touchdowns and passed to end Buie for two more.

After the wildcats dominated the action in the first period, the Bulldogs came to life in the second quarter, scoring two touchdowns for a halftime score of 14-14.

In the third quarter a stubborn Bulldog defense stopped the Wildcats on the Bulldog 2 yard line. A 2 yard pass from Townsend to Buie climaxed a 98 yard drive putting the game on ice for Sanford. Kittleson was successful on all four conversion attempts making the final tally 28-14 for the Bulldogs.

Paul Johnston guards against a somewhat stymied 'Cat.

End Sheryl Buie races to the end zone to raise the Bulldogs over the Wildcats.

Bulldogs End Season With a Victory

Place kicker Lance Kittleson and the speeding Bulldog offense edged the Sanford squad to a close victory over the Enloe Eagles of Raleigh.

Four fumble recoveries by the Bulldogs seemed to provide the victory in the last game of the season as it closed with an over-all record of 6-4 and a 4-4 conference mark.

Eddie Davis, the number two Bulldog rusher, gained 122 yards in 12 carries, helping set up a TD as fullback Randy Thompson plunged over the goal line to score 6 points for the Bulldog's first score.

Enloe stormed back with a recovered fumble and tied the game at 7 all. Third quarter action saw halfback Ricky Jenkins score for a second Bulldog TD. Kittleson again made the conversion point. The Eagles, seeming never to give in, came back to score but a conversion point was not made, thus leaving the score 14-13.

The final quarter came with each team making a TD but the Eagles lost by a mere point leading to another Bulldog victory.

Eddie Davis fakes out Enloe onrushers as he sprints to the five yard line.

Defense proudly displays the eagerness to win.

Coached by Bert Stafford and Billy Soles, the 1969 Junior Varsity team kicked off the season with three straight wins—defeating Rockingham by a 19-6 margin, Wilson-Fike with a 7-0 score, and Greensboro Page 19-13.

Overconfidence in the fourth game proved to be the downfall of the Bulldogs as Jacksonville trounced them 27-6. In the game with Smith, which marked the half way mark, the Bulls took advantage of the Bulldogs fumbles and won that contest with a 13-7 score.

The overwhelming 66-7 victory over the Rocky Mount Blackbirds was sparked by the fine playing of running back Rodney Evans, who scored six touchdowns. A week later the high scoring offense, which prevailed during the Rocky Mount game, suffered a 19-6 shutout to the Durham Dogs.

The J.V.'s again blasted back and defeated the Goldsboro Quakes by a hard fought 7-0 score, only to succumb to New Hanover 20-19 the following week. The final game of the season against the Cougars of Reid Ross, canceled twice because of rain, resulted in a crushing 48-0 defeat; thus, the Bulldogs finished the season with a respectable 5-5 season.

Basketball Initiates Spirit

Before the beginning moments, Coach Maness and the Bulldogs discuss strategy.

Bulldogs Spark FTS Spirit

As the football season drew to a close, the Fayetteville fans moved to the gym in eager anticipation of the basketball season.

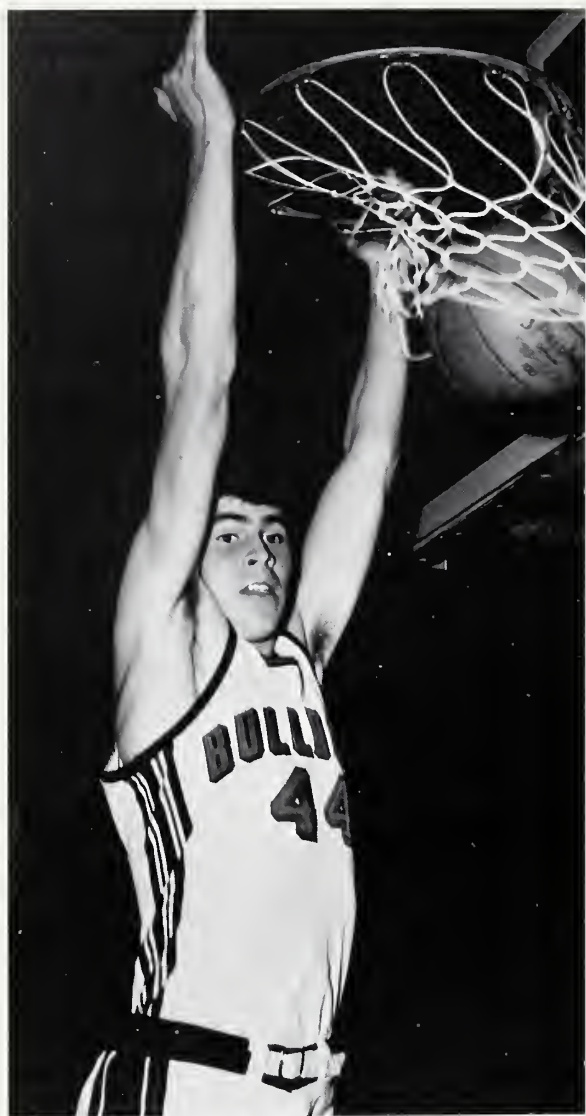

Although there were only two returning lettermen, Coach Maness sparked his team with desire and determination as their efforts obtained a regular season's record of 14 wins and 6 losses. With the sharpshooting of Scotty Stapleton, and the overwhelming defensive and offensive plays, the Bulldogs paced their way up the ladder into a high position in the 4-A Conference.

Co-captains Andy Burch and Jimmy Young proved to be key players in every game with the help of reserves Jay Kosterman, Eddie Davis and Neil Newton.

Coach Maness expects an even more promising season next year with more than half of his team returning.

Tap-off is the familiar beginning of all basketball games.

Under the direction of Coach Billy Soles, the 1968-69 Junior Varsity basketball team compiled a season record of a mere six wins and fourteen losses. Despite the low record of the J.V. team, the boys improved greatly throughout the season.

Frank Townsend, also a star football player, was the team's highest scorer. The top rebounder was Dennis Press. An addition to the team, Bobby Ringer, who was brought from the varsity, proved to be a great asset to the Bulldogs in both offensive and defensive plays.

Other outstanding players included Chip Bishop, Mike Kosterman, Mike Slaughter, and Woody Myatt. Although the statistics show an unimpressive verdict, high promises are expected for the future varsity team.

Bulldogs Dominate Northern Division

Solid first-string team led the 1969 Wrestling Team to a 6-0 conference record and 9-1 overall record which placed Fayetteville in first place in the 4-A Conference and first in the Northern Division of the conference.

The Bulldog wrestlers lost one of their pioneer coaches of the sport at FTS through a transfer to Ross. The tremendous determination and desire for victory which characterized the able and experienced 1968-1969 squad was compounded by the fact that Coach Hall was inexperienced in this particular sport. The character of the Dogs was victorious over circumstance and they brought home a more than impressive season record. Still unfortunate for the squad is the deficiency in the number of boys trying-out and qualifying for the team, which leads to a lack of depth. One painful factor for next season will be a loss of ten varsity wrestlers to graduation.

Top Bulldog vaulter, Richard McDuffie, strains to clear the bar at thirteen feet.

After completing a season record of 10 wins and only 1 loss, the Bulldogs were again host to the Eastern 4-A Conference Meet where they placed a heartbreaking third place. The following week the Bulldogs placed first in the Eastern Sectionals.

Fayetteville's outstanding performers throughout the season included speedsters Ken Garrett and Chuck Stevens; miler Joe Day; pole vaulter Richard McDuffie; and hurdler Bob Clause.

Versatile Ken Garrett, the Bulldogs' top competitor, paced the team with wins in the 100 yard and 200 yard dashes, and the 880 relays. He also placed first in the 100 yard dash at the State Meet in Chapel Hill establishing a new state record of 9.8 seconds.

Under the direction of Coach Bob Hart, the Bulldogs are expected to have another outstanding season in 1969.

No-Hitter Highlights 1968 Baseball

The 1968 Baseball Team tallied five victories and eleven hard-fought defeats. Coached by John Daskal, the Bulldogs opened the season with a victory over Dunn but couldn't seem to crash the winning side thereafter because of lack of experience.

Fayetteville's leading batters included Senior Tony Small, and Juniors Bob Lowery and Albert Bryant. Bryant was the only member of the team to hit over the .300 mark, but hopes for next year's improvement have increased.

The Bulldog's Most Valuable Player, Nick Lampros, was the leading pitcher for the team, as he pitched a no-hitter and a 2-1 hitter. Lampros was also a leading pitcher for the city's local baseball team.

With many returning lettermen, the 1969 baseball season is expected to highlight spring sports with the help of good leadership and good ole' Bulldog spirit.

Coach Hart hurriedly tallies the final statistics of a conference meet.

Directed by Coach Bob Hart, the Terry Sanford Bulldogs finished the 1968 Cross Country season with an outstanding 18-1 record—the lone loss being to Raleigh Broughton.

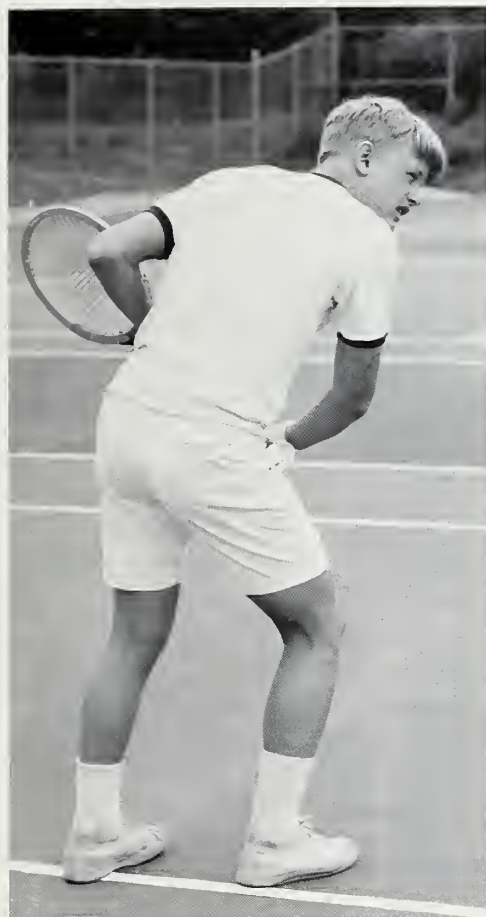

Hosting the 4-A Conference Meet, Terry Sanford placed first. The team then went to Durham for the Eastern Sectionals and again finished first. The state finals held in Chapel Hill presented the Bulldogs with their greatest challenge. The team finished second to an undefeated Myers Park team.

Millard Woodard, captain of the team was the number one runner and finished in the top ten of both the sectional and state competition. Other outstanding runners for the Bulldogs were Jeff Hurr, Alfred Marshall, Chris Prather, Bob McCarthy, and Jackie Holmes.

Bulldogs Millard Woodard and Alfred Marshall burst to the lead.

Tennis Team Posts 3-8 Record

Led by the performances of Kirk Jones, Bob Newton, Millard Woodard and Ray Jones, the 1968 Fayetteville High tennis team compiled a record of 3 wins and 8 losses. The team lost 6 players to graduation and had only 3 returning lettermen. A beneficial transfer from Rocky Mount placed Millard Woodard in the top 4 on the team ladder.

At the headpost for a year was Don Parsons who selected the top 12 players from the spring tryouts. A challenge ladder was then set-up among the team members. This system offers the players the opportunity to advance their individual team standing in between official school matches.

1968 TEAM: Kneeling: Bill Schadel, Richard Ringler, Steve Darling, Mike Murphy. Standing: Millard Woodard, Harry Edmonds, Ray Jones, Kirk Jones, Greg Parks, and Coach Parsons.

Golf Team Places 7th in Conference

Coached by Gerald Moody, the FTS Bulldogs compiled a 1-7 record for the 1968 season, finishing seventh in the conference. Tom Tharp and Kenny Adams shared low scores by shooting 75's. Eddie Waren, Danny Miller, Kenny Adams, and Bob Henderson, returning lettermen, are expected to lead the 1969 team to a better season.

Each fall, the junior varsity cheerleaders are picked on the basis of pep, co-ordination and leadership. These girls, with the help of their advisor, Miss Matthews, work hard to promote the well-known FTS spirit among the sophomore class. Whether the game be one of joyful victory or heartbreaking defeat, the JV cheerleaders are dedicated to the support of the Bulldogs. It's the determination that these girls have who will someday become the top boosters of Terry Sanford Senior High School Bulldogs.

Cheerleaders Boost Pride in FTS Spirit

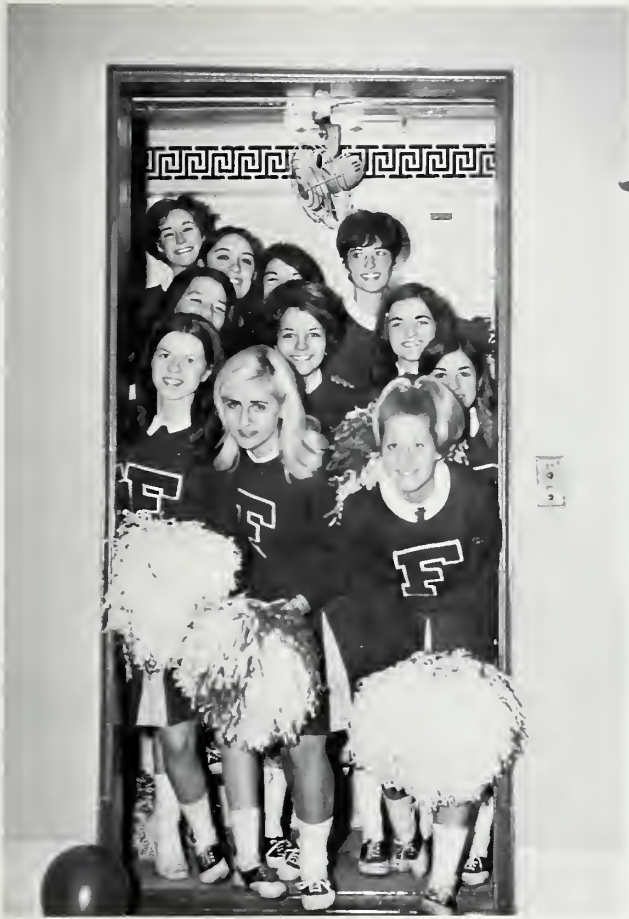

Buddy Bulldog takes over as Rosi McKenzie helps Mateney Lee adjust her homecoming flower.

"Have you got the spirit?" was a familiar cry heard from the enthusiastic cheers of the varsity cheerleaders. These eleven girls hold a responsibility that looks easier than it really is. After being chosen in the spring, the cheerleaders practiced during the summer months and worked out new cheers and painted new signs—typical pre-season activities.

As the first games approached, anxious cheerleaders worked hard on the last minute details of pep rallies and school spirit. After the first few weeks, the "work" only seems to be fun and games.

Hot nights, cold nights, or even rainy nights never seemed to disillusion the girls as they cheered their team through victory or defeat and helped to establish the pride of FTS spirit.

The cheerleaders pause for a moment of clowning before one of the out-of-town games.

"Give me a 'B'" is the beginning of the proud cheer which spells out BULLDOGS and always arouses the fans.

The cheerleaders accelerate enthusiasm as the mighty Bulldogs are presented to their fans.

1969 Superlatives Elected by Seniors

Each year in the fall, ballots are distributed to all the seniors for the purpose of nominating for each Senior Superlative a girl and boy whom they felt best filled the qualifications. These ballots were collected and compiled as a ballot with three girls and boys nominated for each superlative. The seniors then voted in their homerooms on the final ballots. After careful and long tabulating, the Senior Class Executive Committee announced the superlative awards at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. The winners of each award have shown commendable service to their school, community, and friends according to the award for which they were chosen.

Best All-Around

To the students with the most admirable traits is awarded the superlative of Best All-Around. Winnie McBryde and Jimmy Young are this year's recipients of this distinctive award.

Winnie's friendliness and determination have aided in her work as Sophomore Cl. Secretary, Student Body Secretary, and Student Body Vice-President. Winnie has sparked enthusiasm and participation as a member of the Tri-Hi-Y and Fayetteville High School Garden Club.

Jimmy's interest in his school has been shown through his active participation in J.V. and Varsity Basketball while at Terry Sanford. His leadership and scholarship are exemplified as an active member of the Hi-Y and NHS. Jimmy was nominated for a Morehead Scholarship.

Best Personality

Because of their wit, friendliness, and vitality, Trish Kelleher and Neil Newton were selected to receive the Best Personality award. Trish has spread happiness through her work in Tri-Hi-Y, on the LaFamac, and the Ivy Garden Club. Neil's outgoing personality has been reflected in his active support and friendliness in school sports. Trish and Neil always have a pleasant "hello" for all and make events brighter with their cheer.

Most Dependable

As conscientious students, Penny Makris and Charles Johnson have best exhibited the qualities of the "Most Dependable." Serving as a marshal and LaFamac Editor, Penny has performed her duties more than efficiently. Charles, through his work on the Student Council and the Key Club, has worked diligently on many school projects. Penny has worked earnestly through her work as Jr. Class Treasurer. Charles has served well as Sr. Class Activities Committee Chairman.

Most Courteous

Laney Shackleford and Reggie Barton have shown not only concern but also courtesy for others. Reggie served as Class Representative his junior year in addition to receiving the Courtesy Cup. He is now serving as Senior Class President. Laney has worked as Senior Class Secretary and is an active member of the NHS. Both served as Marshals their junior years and are members of the 1969 LaFamac Staff. It was not only their participation in these activities but also their earnest concern which elected them as Most Courteous.

Most Athletic

Because of their lively interest in sports, Kathy Moss and Kenny Garrett were chosen as Most Athletic. An All-East and All-Conference halfback, Kenny belonged to the football team during his three years at F.T.S. He has also participated on the track team for two years and won the State Championship in the 100 yard dash. Kathy has been an energetic member of the G.A.A. for three years. She has taken part in the school's intramural program including football, basketball, softball and tennis. During her junior year, Kathy took first place in the tennis competition.

Most Outstanding Citizens

As outstanding citizens, Winnie McBryde and Greg Johnson have been very active in both school and community activities. Winnie, in the capacity of Sophomore Class Secretary, Student Body Secretary and Vice-President, has been very active with the Student Council. In receiving the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award and attending the 1968 Tar Heel Girl's State, she has reflected the attributes of an outstanding citizen. Greg has demonstrated his leadership abilities as Vice-President of the Key Club, Governor of the Carolina's District, Sophomore Class Treasurer, and Student Body Treasurer. Morehead Scholarship Semi-Finalist and N. C. Student Council Congress Workshop delegate are but a few honors reflecting his outstanding citizenship.

Most School-Spirited

Cathy Bock and Jay Nichols have truly ignited the spirit of the class of 1969. They have exemplified the enthusiasm of the entire class. Cathy has served as cheerleader for the past two years. This year as head cheerleader, she has organized pep rallies, encouraged sportsmanship and helped the team toward many victories. She was elected Homecoming Queen of 1968 and served as Sports Editor on the LaFamac Staff. Jay has been an active participant in the Intramural Sports Teams. He was elected as the Most Valuable Intramural Sports player as a junior. At sports activities he has cheered the Bulldogs on to victory.

Most Attractive

Attractiveness entails a great deal more than just being pretty or handsome. A person must also consider charm, poise, and neatness. The Senior Class feels that all of these qualities are exemplified in Kathy Vincoli and Philip Knight. Kathy has participated in the Miss FTS Contest in her sophomore, junior, and senior years. Philip's friendly smile is admired by all.

Most Talented

The Senior Class believes that Mona Willette and Tommy Altman are "most talented." Tommy participated and won second place in the talent show last year. He also plays the drums for the Low Rent District band. Mona has been in the Senior High Singers for the past three years and served as Student Director her Junior year. She has also participated in the Student Council Talent Show.

Most Intellectual

In recognition of their achievements for the past three years, Bette York and Jimmy Stanfield were chosen as Most Intellectual. They are active members of the NHS. Bette has been nominated for the Katheryn Reynolds Scholarship, and Jimmy is a National Merit Semi-Finalist and a Morehead Nominee. Bette and Jimmy are active in such classes as Calculus and Physics.

Most Likely to Succeed

Because William Fadul and Penny Makris exemplify knowledge and leadership, they were elected Most Likely to Succeed. Penny received the DAR Good Citizenship Award and served as Jr. Class Treasurer. William has served as Jr. Class President and Student Body President. Penny was very successful in editing the 1969 LaFamac. William has done an outstanding job in leading the Student Council in its projects in the school and community.

Each person entering the doors of Terry Sanford Senior High during the 1968-1969 school year has witnessed and been a part of a phenomenon that has never been equaled in the history of our outstanding school. The student body, led by the Class of '69 has exhibited a spirit unparalleled by any other in each activity that was undertaken. This outstanding characteristic of the school year presented the 1969 LaFamac staff with the task and challenge of producing a yearbook that would be worthy of the enthusiasm shown by the students.

In setting out to accomplish this feat, the staff attempted to capture this spirit within the pages of this, the 1969 LaFamac, so that it would be a true history of what transpired during this wonderful year. We have worked with you, the students, in mind, trying to present the events of the last nine months in a manner that will enable you to relive the excitement, joys, heartbreaks, and emotions each time you thumb through these pages. We have enjoyed doing this, we have enjoyed being a part of the phenomenon, but whether we have accomplished our purpose is to be decided by you.
